THINGS TO KNOW

Firstly, make sure you have all the necessary travel documents such as passports and visas. It's also a good idea to keep a copy of these documents in case of an emergency.

Secondly, learn a few French phrases, such as “Bonjour” (hello), “Merci” (thank you)

Finally, be prepared for the Parisian lifestyle. Many shops and restaurants close mid-day for a few hours, and tipping is not expected as it is included in the price.

Arc de Triomphe

The Arc de Triomphe is a world-famous monument located in Paris, France. It stands in the center of the Place Charles de Gaulle and was commissioned by the French emperor Napoleon Bonaparte in 1806 to commemorate his military victories. The arc is over 50 meters tall and has intricate carvings and sculptures that depict im-

Musée d'Orsay

There are many great museums to visit in Paris. Some of the most famous include the Louvre, the Musée d'Orsay, and the Centre Georges Pompidou. Each offers a unique perspective on art, history, and culture. Have you decided which museum you'd like to visit?

Basilique du Sacré-Cœur,

The biggest church in Paris is the Basilique du Sacré-Cœur, also known as the Basilica of the Sacred Heart. It is located on the top of Montmartre Hill and it offers an amazing panoramic view of the city. The basilica is an important landmark in Paris and it is known for its distinctive Romano-Byzantine architecture and its impressive mosaic interior

The most well-known river is the Seine, which flows through the heart of the city. It is a beautiful river with many iconic bridges and landmarks along its banks, such as the Eiffel Tower, Notre-Dame Cathedral, and the Louvre Museum.

Pont Neuf Bridge

Despite its name, which means “new bridge,” it is actually the oldest standing bridge in Paris. The bridge has two levels: the upper level for pedestrians and vehicles and the lower level for boats passing through. There are 12 arches on the bridge, and each one has a different size and shape.

The Moulin Rouge opened its doors in 1889 and quickly became a popular entertainment venue, particularly for the bohemian crowd of Montmartre.

The cabaret is known for its can-can dancers, who perform in extravagant costumes and high kicks.

The iconic red windmill on the roof of the building has become a symbol of Parisian nightlife.

Day 1 Arc De Triomphe

It is the historic monument that we are visting on first day. The Arc de Triomphe honors those who fought and died for France during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars, with the names of all French victories and generals inscribed on its inner and outer surfaces. Under its vault lies the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier from the First World War.

Day 2 Musée d'Orsay

It is the historic museum that we are visiting on second day. The building itself is also a work of art, as it was once a train station and has been beautifully repurposed to house the museum's collection. Visitors can enjoy a wide variety of art, including paintings, sculpture, decorative arts, and photography. It's definitely a must-see destination for art lovers visiting Paris!

Day 3 Basilique du Sacré-Cœur

An amazing architecture of one of the oldest and the biggest church that we are visiting on third day. The interior of the church is also impressive, with beautiful stained glass windows, intricate mosaics, and an impressive grand organ. Additionally, the Basilique du Sacré-Cœur is a popular pilgrimage site and a symbol of national unity for the people of France.

Day 4 Seine River

It is the oldest river at the hearts of Paris that we are visting on Fourth day. The Arc de Triomphe honors those who fought and died for France during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars, with the names of all French victories and generals inscribed on its inner and outer surfaces. Under its vault lies the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier from the First

Day 5 Pont Neuf Bridge

The Pont Neuf we are visiting the fifth day and it is considered to be the oldest stone bridge in Paris. Henri IV ordered it to be constructed in 1578. Twelve arches, 384 'mascarons' or grotesque faces decorating the cornices and the equestrian statue of Henri IV, the first to be placed on a public thoroughfare, make the bridge instantly recognizable.

Day 6 Moulin Rouge

Moulin Rouge is best known as the birthplace of the modern form of the can-can dance. This we are visiting the sixth day .Originally introduced as a seductive dance by the courtesans who operated from the site, the can-can dance revue evolved into a form of entertainment of its own and led to the introduction of cabarets across Europe.

Thanks for visiting. Hope to see you again
